TARGET1:<http://www.ics.uci.edu/pub/websoft/libwww-perl/>
DESC1.1: A library of Perl4 packages which provides a simple and consistent programming interface to the World Wide Web. I founded and was the primary architect and developer of the libwww-perl collaborative software development project in 1994-95. I continue to support the libwww-perl5 project for WWW clients and tools based on the Perl5 language.
DESC1.2: , a library of Perl packages/modules which provides a simple and consistent programming interface to the World Wide Web. The main focus of the library is to provide classes and functions that allow writing WWW clients. New HTML::* modules enable easy parsing of HTML pages. The library also contains modules that are of more general use.
DESC1.3: - WWW Protocol Library for Perl (with extensive documentation)
DESC1.4: protocol library for clients written in perl
DESC1.5: - "Library of perl4 packages which provides a consistent programming interface to the world wide web."
DESC1.6: - Library of Perl packages and modules for interface to the Web.
DESC1.7:(version 0.40).
DESC1.8:(for Perl4)
DESC1.9: Libwww-perl is a freely available library of perl4 packages that provide a simple and consistent programming interface to the Web. <http://www.ics.uci.edu/pub/websoft/libwww-perl/> (Size 0.4K)
